4. Journals of the Bernoulli Society

News Item

Act now and enjoy free electronic access to Stochastic Processes and their Applications.

Elsevier Science is pleased to inform you that all Bernoulli Society members will have free electronic access to the latest articles published in the journal Stochastic Processes and their Applications from 2000 onwards.

Electronic access gives you the following benefits:

- complete access to the full-text of the latest journal issues
- use of search and browse facilities
- the ability to download abstracts (HTML) and full-text articles (PDF)
- a wide range of additional information
- all from your own desktop

If you wish to receive free access to the journal you can register from January 1, 2000 onwards at: `www.elsevier.nl/locate/BSMembers`. Once you have registered you will be provided with a username and password by e-mail.

In addition to the electronic access for members, Elsevier Science continues to make available a print subscription to the Bernoulli Society Members at a reduced rate. The 2000 membership subscription rate for the printed journal is NLG 135,00. If you are interested in receiving a print subscription to the journal please contact Erica van der Kraan at ISI (e-mail = EKRN@cbs.nl).

If you have already renewed your print subscription for 2000 but now wish to have free electronic access only, please also contact Erica van der Kraan. If your print subscription is cancelled before the March 31, 2000, you will be refunded an amount equivalent to the issues that have not yet been published.

For additional information on Stochastic Processes and their Applications go to the journal's website at: `www.elsevier.nl/locate/spa`

Nicolette van Dijk, Publishing Editor, Elsevier Science

Participants of SESS-TIES 99 at the conference site